

THE CUT

home sweet home

We all have an attachment to place. Whether it's our family home or the first property we lived in, that pull of the sentimental is ever-present, particularly – and perhaps most importantly – during times of uncertainty. For Sydney-based illustrator Georgia Norton Lodge, this sense of connection was the inspiration behind starting her own business, Georgia Draws a House. Rooted in the familiar, her sweet bespoke illustrations, starting from $99, are a simple way to celebrate all the beloved places and spaces in your life. If you'd like to try your hand at drawing a house yourself, Georgia can teach you in one of her fun virtual drawing workshops.
